THE TEAM

Matt Long – Writer/Producer and Lead Actor (Jack Bishop)

Matt Long is a Norwich based British Actor, Writer, Producer and company director of Multi Award winning British Independent Film Company 'Bulldog Films Ltd'.
Although he started his entertainment career out on stage as a Catwalk model, he came to acting in his mid 30's training with the Theatre Royal Norwich.

Matt is a very versatile actor appearing in Theatre as well as in TV and Film in both the UK and USA. Soldiers of Embers is his first self written feature and has built quite a following during its production with the trailer winning the 'Best Drama Trailer' category at the Hollywood Independent Media Film Festival. Matt also appeared on the front cover of the Daily Mail weekend magazine as Beethoven for over 100 million readers online and in print. Its safe to say that Matt knows how to get himself, his team and his projects known with his marketing strategies.

Danny Cotton – Director

Danny is a Writer/Director from Norwich, England and has been making films since 2009, building up experience primarily as a Director but also in other roles including Camera Operator, First Assistant Director, Editor and others on many projects.
He studied two years of Film, Media and Photography at college gaining more experience through working in the visual medium, subsequently studying Film Production in a more formal setting during one year at university before going onto create his own short films building up his experience to get to this, his second feature length production.

Adam Sturman - Producer

Adam is an award winning filmmaker based in Norfolk, England. He has worked on several film projects, including the multi award winning short film 'Dinner Date', which was screened on BBC 3's 'The Fear' competition and the upcoming 'No more lights in the Sky' among others, in a variety of different roles including Producer, Camera Department, Sound Department, Post Production, and more.
Adam has also directed his own short films including the award winning 'Bwah Bwah'.
Adam has a Postgraduate Diploma in Performance Practices from the University of Chester.
